1. In a world of lies and twist-ed tales, how would your truth reach our ears?
 wea-ry world of pain and loss, how did you know it was time?

Where bul-lies shout and pride wins out, could words of peace calm our fears?
 When powerful men held all the cards, how would you give them a sign?

Je - sus is here. Jesus is.

1. In a world of lies and twisted tales, how would your truth reach our ears?
Where bullies shout, and pride wins out,
could words of peace calm our fears?
Prophets whispering in the dark waking hearts to seek
Your pre-existent spark.
2. For a weary world of pain and loss
how did You know it was time?
When powerful men held all the cards
how would you give them a sign?
Eastern eyes searching the skies Journey west to seek a King who will arise.
3. Though the world was deaf and blind to hope,
You kept on watching in love.
Rebellion brewed; oppressors laughed
while angels gathered above.
Gabriel greets the favoured one:
"God is with you and will bless you with His Son."
Chorus
4. So the child was born in Bethlehem - you've heard the story before.
This spark of love invites us all:
come now to kneel and adore.
Hallelujah for the Son gave his life to show us what we could become.

*Will we ever see the light
from that monumental night?
Christmas is near.*

*Will we ever see the light
from that monumental night?
Will we ever see the light
from that monumental night?
Jesus is here.
Jesus is here.*
