1. Deep in the earth's darkness,
 new life is awakening
 shoots reaching up to the sunlight.
 Winter is releasing
 seeds which it has sheltered, raising them now from their rest.
 Bursting out with artists' flair
 painting colour everywhere;
 Jesus - creation sings your glory!

2. High up in the skies the planets in their courses orbit the sun, never failing.
 Earth's lengthening days bring blossoming and birthing, everything springs into life.
 Flowers and fungi, mountains, seas,
 bugs and birds who surf the breeze;
 Jesus - creation sings your glory!

3. Wide open horizons shimmer in the heat of long lazy days, good for growing.
 Cinnamon and sunflowers,
 blackberries and barley;
 food, plenty for all to share.
 Fruits of forest, sea and land are provided by your hand.
 Jesus - creation sings your glory!

4. Long nights are encroaching, leaves falling are weaving carpets of mulch for the winter.
 Nature decomposing,
 untangling her treasures
 stores them away in the ground.
 Even while the earth may sleep, there's a life that runs so deep;
 Jesus - creation sings your glory!

Bridge: Deep, high, wide, long;
 in love you come.

5. Love for all creation,
 love's pure motivation,
 love for all things bruised and broken,
 love brought you among us,
 walking the earth with us,
 love nailed you onto the tree.
 But earth's death it melts away;
 heaven's life is here to stay.
